Civilian Response to Active Shooter Events training workshop set for Saturday in Elba

Coffee County EMA and Enterprise State Community College are partnering to offer the Civilian Response to Active Shooter Events (CRASE) training workshop in Elba.

The workshop will be held at Elba First United Methodist Church this Saturday, Feb. 24, from 9-11 a.m. The workshop is offered at no cost to the public. Registration is not required.

Church security teams are encouraged to attend this workshop. The workshop will include an analysis of past active shooter events as well as the lessons learned from those events.

Jeff Spence, director of Public Safety and Security for Enterprise State Community College, will be the instructor for the class. He has extensive training in this area and provides excellent instruction. There will be time for questions/answers as well.

"The possibility of being involved in an active shooter situation is a high risk threat," said Grant Lyons, deputy director for Coffee County EMA. "This workshop provides the knowledge, skills and attitude required for effective responses to such threats."

Lyons said it is unfortunate this workshop has to be offered.

"We live in a day and time in which an event like this could happen anywhere," he said. "We want to offer this type of training to our citizens to help them be better educated and prepared."

For more information on the training, call Coffee County EMA at 334-894-5375.

Fun at the park on President's Day!

Temperatures reached the low 80s Monday, Feb. 19, in Elba, and locals took advantage of the 'good weather' to head outdoors. Schools were out and many businesses closed as the President's Day holiday was observed, and Elba's Tiger Town Park was a popular attraction Monday for youngsters as they enjoyed playing at the playground. Around 2 p.m. Monday afternoon lots of laughter could be heard from the park as many were out enjoying the day. Above, friends Levi Daniels and Evan Hilburn stopped long enough to pose for a photo while enjoying the Tiger Town Park equipment. Additional photos of youngsters enjoying the park can be found on Page 10 of today's paper.

Elba High School Career Academy attends Alabama CTE Day

The Elba Career Academy recently joined more than 500 student leaders, members, and advisers of Career and Technical Education (CTE) at the CTE Day on the Hill in Montgomery, Ala.

This event was organized by the Alabama Association of Career and Technical Education (ALACTE.) ALACTE is affiliated with the National Association for Career and Technical Education, which is career and technical education's voice in Washington, D.C.

ALACTE is Alabama's link to Capitol Hill on federal issues affecting career and technical education. One of ALACTE's main functions is to represent our membership before the legislature.

ALACTE works to educate policymakers, education colleagues, administrators, parents, students, business and industry representatives, and the public about the value of career and technical education programs. ALACTE seeks to foster excellence in career and technical education by providing leadership opportunities and recognition.

The meeting provided Elba Career Academy students opportunities to learn how to advocate for CTE and their student organizations. Students were able to network with other leaders across the state.

Students also had the opportunity to speak with their representatives in the House and Senate.

"We were thrilled to have an attendance of over 500 members, advisers, partners, and guests who are committed to CTE and advocating for CTE Programs," said Felicia Williams, ALACTE Vice President of Public Policy. "The skills learned here today can be used to inspire students to make a difference in their own communities and to discover the unlimited possibilities within their reach."

were chaperones for this event.

Governor declares Severe Weather Week in Alabama

Governor Kay Ivey has declared February 18-23rd, 2018, as Severe Weather Awareness Week in Alabama.

The National Weather Service, the Alabama Emergency Management Agency, Coffee County EMA, and other supporting organizations ask for citizens' help in providing the public with information about severe weather safety.

Advance planning and increased awareness will help residents of Alabama survive these deadly storms.

"There are many aspects to being prepared for severe weather, but first and foremost, know where you live," said Grant Lyons, deputy director for Coffee County EMA. "No matter what you have in your severe weather plan, it will never be complete until you can pinpoint your location on a map. Take a few moments now to learn some local geography so you can be more prepared when severe weather strikes."

Don't just stop with the home location, learn surrounding counties and communities. This extra bit of knowledge will help one determine if storms in other areas are heading one's way.

To help with this, the Coffee County EMA has included the attached image of Alabama (see photo).

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

"All you need is love. But a little chocolate now and then doesn't hurt." — Charles M. Schulz

South Alabama has experienced some cold, cold weather during the past weeks, but we are making up for it this week with unseasonably warm temperatures with record setting 80 degree readings in spots around this part of the state. We wonder how the averages are working out. The weather experts are predicting that the whole planet will experience an ever-increasing rate of extremes of all kinds . . . heat, cold, storms, etc., as their predictions of global warming becomes more evident. Time will tell.

The shootings at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in South Florida last week is unspeakably horrible. Seventeen people died, mainly teens, good kids just entering the prime of their lives. Several of the victims were teachers, who died doing what teachers are dedicated to do — protect and nurture their students. There are thousands of ideas of how to prevent this ever happening again. Many are not practical, in spite of the emotions involved with the feelings of the person making the suggestion. Pick your own favorite solution and work to get it enacted. Something will work but if we don't try various ideas, nothing will ever begin to work. The favorite idea is some variation of gun control but stopping the sale of AK-47s will not cure the problem. We certainly don't object to actually doing that, but it ain't enough! There are already five to eight million of them out there plus all sorts of other long guns that will do the same damage. Those others are just not the "in" weapons for the warped minds of people wanting to destroy anything that moved.

We expect something of sorts to come out of Washington following this latest school shooting but don't expect a miracle. In fact after the politicians get past the chest thumping about solving the problem, they will kick into the mode of making ALL the "important" voters back home happy and we will get a long wordy bill through the legislature (that pleases no one) and in a few months we will be wringing our hands over some other issue. Example . . . sexual harassment is no longer covering the front pages and/or hours of time on the talk shows. That has been replaced by endless hours of talking about the school shooters.

Our ideas on finding a cure for this cancer include an aggressive approach to spotting people with mental issues and following up with treatment. We read about one great project that a public school teacher was using with some middle school students. On a routine basis she has each child to list the four classmates they would like to sit with in the next week. The kids list the four names and turn them in but do not sign their own name. What the teacher was looking for was the student that was NOT ON ANY-ONE'S list, and/or suddenly dropped off everyone's list. These are the ones she worked with to overcome their problems, etc., before they became larger issues. IT WAS WORKING!

There is a free "Active Shooter" class scheduled for Saturday morning at the Elba United Methodist Church. It was planned before the recent school shooting but we suspect that event will increase the attendance expediently. We just hope this type training is not generating a bunch of Wild West gunslingers sitting in America's churches.

~ Supporting Our Space Programs ~

Guest Editorial by U.S. Representative Martha Roby

The week of February 18th is Alabama Aerospace Week in Montgomery.

NASA and other organizations will be in town to discuss our state's role in the space industry and to inspire the next generation of scientists and explorers to consider careers in the aerospace field. One of the events is NASA Day at Alabama State University, and I am excited to be attending.

NASA's top level administrators and an astronaut will be present to share with students the many opportunities as well as great things taking place within the organization.

As you may know, NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville is very important to our state's economy. Marshall supports approximately 22,000 jobs in Alabama and provides $3.8 billion in economic impact.

On top of this, more than half of Marshall's contracts are sourced in-state, yielding an additional $1.4 billion in economic activity.

I recently had the opportunity to meet with some companies who work on the Space Launch System (SLS) Program managed at Marshall. Of the jobs supported by NASA in Alabama, the SLS Program supports 13,000 of them and generates $2.4 billion in economic output. I was pleased to learn more about the vital work they perform.

Our state is rightfully proud of the key role we play in the space program, and I am encouraged that the Trump Administration has made it clear that they are committed to supporting NASA's growth. In December, on the 45th anniversary of the last manned mission to the moon, the President signed the Space Policy Directive One which directs NASA to send humans back to the moon.

As you probably know, Alabama played a crucial role in the Apollo Mission that first sent man to the moon. NASA is currently working to lay the groundwork for future space exploration and life-sustaining research that would not be possible without this long-term commitment.

Additionally, in the Administration's 2019 budget proposal, the NASA budget request is $19.9 billion, which is a funding increase of $370 million. Serving on the House Appropriations Committee gives me the opportunity to push for priorities that are important to our state and district.

On the Appropriations Committee, I sit on the Commerce, Justice, and Science (CJS) Subcommittee, which oversees funding for a number of important issues, including NASA. I'm proud to have this position to work with the Trump Administration and my colleagues in Congress to advance NASA's priorities.

NASA has already achieved so much, and with the support of the Administration, Congress, and hardworking people, including many Alabamians, I am confident they will be able to accomplish so much more.

It will be up to the next generation of engineers, scientists, and explorers to continue pushing NASA's legacy — in our state and throughout the world — past the boundaries to expand this program into something far greater than anything we could have imagined.

I am looking forward to meeting some of these bright, young students at NASA Day in Montgomery!

KHEAA says students should start thinking about retirement

Retirement may seem like a long way off for today's students, but it's not too early for them to start thinking about it, according to KHEAA—Alabama.

For decades, U.S. citizens have depended on Social Security for much of their retirement income. However, Congress can change the laws that govern Social Security at any time.

Many people have also relied on pensions, but many companies are scaling back or ending their pension plans. Changing jobs often means workers won't be able to build up a pension even if employers offer one.

People are also living longer, which means their retirement funds have to cover more years.

When it comes to retirement, you should hope for the best but prepare for the worst.

Every time you get paid, set something aside for retirement. A little can go a long way. For example, if you save $200 per month for 40 years without earning any interest, you will have saved $96,000. If you can invest that money at 2.5 percent, you will have more than $164,000 built up — and that's not much for retirement.

Develop and maintain a budget that includes saving as much as you can, then invest those savings wisely. When you begin your career, work with an investment professional to pick the plan that is best for you. If you don't have Social Security or a pension upon retiring, you will still have something to help get you through your retirement years.

ADPH's "Through With Chew Week" highlights dangers of spit tobacco use

"Spit" tobacco is just as addictive as cigarettes and has many harmful side effects.

For these reasons, the Alabama Department of Public Health encourages smokeless tobacco users to quit the "spit" during "Through With Chew Week," February 18-24.

The educational campaign to decrease spit tobacco use and increase awareness of the negative health effects of using these products is an annual event that began in 1989 by the American Academy of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery.

The 2016 Alabama Adult Tobacco Survey revealed that 8.1 percent of the adult Alabamians surveyed had used smokeless tobacco in the past 30 days. The same survey revealed that a slightly higher 9.3 percent of surveyed Alabama teens had also used smokeless tobacco in the past 30 days.

White male high school students had the highest current rate of smokeless tobacco use at 21.3 percent. Middle school students' rate of smokeless tobacco use declined from 6.7 percent in 2014 to 4.0 percent in 2016.

At least 28 cancer-causing chemicals have been found in smokeless tobacco, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Smokeless tobacco use can cause oral, esophageal and pancreatic cancers, and lead to tooth loss and gum recession, said Julie Hare, Alabama Tobacco Quitline director.

Those who want to be "Through With Chew" can call the Quitline (1-800-Quit-Now) for help in quitting. Quitline coaching services are available seven days a week from 6 a.m. to midnight. Services are also offered online at www.quitnowalabama.com

The Quitline provides free, individualized coaching to help smokers and smokeless tobacco users quit. In addition, the Quitline offers up to eight weeks of free nicotine patches to those who are medically eligible and enrolled in the coaching program.

For free help to be "Through With Chew," call the Quitline at 800-784-8669, or visit www.quitnowalabama.com

Do you want to help your friends and neighbors during hurricanes and other severe weather events?

During these weather events many people in the community and even surrounding states look for more secure areas to take shelter from the storms. In Coffee County, leaders would like to be able to open shelters, safe havens, or even a refuge of last resort.

Those interested in helping to make sure this happens are encouraged to attend an upcoming training the Coffee County EMA office is sponsoring with the American Red Cross.

The Shelter Fundamentals training will be held Saturday, March 3, at 9 a.m. at the Coffee County EMA, located at 1065 N. McKinnon St.,

New Brockton.

TIME OUT!

February is the shortest month of the year - just twenty eight days. Just about the time we settle into February, it's over.

In this way, February is a microcosm of life. It begins, it rushes along, and then we wonder "Where did it go?". Time really does fly. As we get older, it actually seems to accelerate. We go faster and faster until.....it's over. That's it. The end.

But wait.....there's more! This life is only a dress rehearsal for the next one. The way we live this life determines our eternal life. Death isn't a stop button on life's remote, but rather a pause. When we hit "play" again, we keep living - eternally!

So, how are you doing with this life? We are like the old wind up clocks. We only have so many ticks, and then we stop. So, live wisely. Ephesians 5:15-17 tells us "...be careful how you live. Don't live like fools, but like those who are wise. Make the most of every opportunity in these evil days. Don't act thoughtlessly, but understand what The Lord wants you to do."

Like February, this life is over quickly. So make it count! We only have a short time to prepare for eternity.

Celebrating Black History Month

Benjamin O. Davis became the first Negro to serve as a Brigadier General in the U.S. Army. His son, Benjamin O. Davis Jr., later became the first Negro to attain the rank of Major General in the U.S. Air Force. On the home front, hundreds of thousands of Negroes received education and training for jobs in war industries. Desegregation of the Armed Forces began on a trial basis during World War II. It was completed soon after President Harry S. Truman issued a 1948 executive order calling for equal treatment for all persons in the Armed Forces. After World War II, more and more Negroes won recognition in various fields. In 1947, Jackie Robinson became the first Negro to play modern major league baseball. In 1950, the poet Gwendolyn Brooks became the first

Negro to win a Pulitzer Prize. Ralph Bunche became the first Negro to win the Nobel Peace Prize. Marion Anderson in 1955 became the first Negro to sing a leading role in the Metropolitan Opera in New York.

Elba High School's Roberson, Williams set to represent PowerSouth at 2018 Youth Tour in Montgomery in March

Elba High School (EHS) students A'Quandria (Shay) Roberson and Ashlea Williams were selected as PowerSouth's 2018 Youth Tour winner and runner-up, respectively.

Denyia Wilkerson, Desten Coone and Sandra Lindsey were selected as alternates.

The winners were chosen based on their performance on a written essay, a written test and an interview competition.

In early March, Roberson and Williams will join hundreds of other Youth Tour representatives from across Alabama in Montgomery to learn more about government, the legislative process and the rural electrification program.

As the EHS Youth Tour winner, Roberson will receive an all-expense paid trip to Washington, D.C., in June to participate in the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association's (NRECA) Youth Tour with more than 1,500 students from all across America to watch history come alive in the nation's capital as they explore museums, memorials and monuments. She will also have the opportunity to meet with members of Congress and become part of a group that has more than 50,000 alumni in every walk of life including U.S. Senators and CEOs.

Roberson is a member of the SGA, BETA Club and HOSA, as well as the EHS band and cheerleading squad. She volunteers by singing at nursing homes and babysitting.

Williams is a member of FCCLA, HOSA and the EHS basketball and softball teams. She volunteers for the Giving Garden and Toys for Tots.

PowerSouth has participated in the Youth Tour program for more than 30 years, sponsoring students from Andalusia, Elba, Opp and Pike County high schools. The top 10 students from EHS will join other area Youth Tour participants at Point A Lodge in February to learn more about PowerSouth and the electric industry, while interacting with their peers.

The Electric Cooperative Youth Tour has brought high school students to Washington, D.C., every June since the late 1950s, and more than 50,000 students from across America have participated in this unique program.

Renowned artist Bacon to discuss exhibit at TROY

Renowned painter, scientist, educator and civil rights activist Dr. Art Bacon will discuss his new exhibit at Troy University's International Arts Center on Tuesday, Feb. 27.

Bacon's Gallery Talk takes place from 11:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. in the center, which will display his work through April 23. He will discuss his art and inspiration, followed by a question-and-answer session.

"Dr. Bacon's art is captivating due to his fascinating subjects as well as the vibrant use of colors and texture," said IAC Curator Carrie Jaxon. "His work provides a beautiful dialogue on African-American culture through his visualization of striking subjects and stories. His Gallery Talk will be a wonderful opportunity to hear firsthand what this scientist, civil rights activist and artist has to say about his artistic journey."

While he is known for discovering a new species of protozoa and serving as dean to the science department at Talladega College during his 40-year tenure, Bacon says his passion is art. In 2008, he left the academic world to pursue his art full time. He is currently artist in residence at Heritage Hall Museum in Talladega and does lecture demonstrations upon request. His work can be found in numerous art collections, including the Birmingham Museum of Art, David C. Driskell Center, Mobile Museum of Art, Alabama State University, Fisk University, New York University, the Birmingham Civil Rights Institute, and in the private collection of Rep. John Lewis. Notable awards include the Artist Showcase of the Palm Beaches in 2012, keys to several cities including Birmingham and Talladega, and the Realizing the Dream Mountaintop Award in 2015. His work has appeared in Southern Living Magazine as well as the book "Visions of our 44th President," showcasing a piece on President Barack Obama.

People are Bacon's subject of choice, especially older and neglected people whose experiences show in their faces.

Troy University to host fifth annual Trojan Art Day

Nearly 300 middle and high school students and their parents from 24 Alabama counties will participate in the fifth annual Trojan Art Day at Troy University on Friday, Feb. 23.

Trojan Art Day offers workshops and demonstrations led by students and faculty in the University's Department of Art and Design, preceding the District II Visual Arts Achievement Program awards ceremony, the conclusion to an art competition sponsored by the Alabama State Council on the Arts. Trojan Art Day and VAAP are partially funded by a grant from the Alabama State Council on the Arts.

"The faculty and staff of the Department of Art and Design are excited to be preparing for another great day of celebrating the power of the arts and the importance of creative thinking and problem solving," said Larry Percy, professor of art and design. "The students we host are the future 'culture shapers,' and we want to engage these young creatives in the positive and diverse Trojan family atmosphere we try to foster here at Troy University."

Trojan Art Day activities will get under way at 9 a.m. and conclude with the VAAP Awards ceremony at 1 p.m. The VAAP Competition Exhibition opened Monday in Malone Gallery, and works will remain on display through Friday, Feb. 23 at 2 p.m.

District II includes schools from Autauga, Barbour, Bullock, Butler, Chambers, Clay, Coffee, Coosa, Covington, Crenshaw, Dale, Dallas, Elmore, Geneva, Henry, Houston, Lee, Lowndes, Macon, Montgomery, Pike, Russell, Randolph and Tallapoosa Counties.

Views From The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

Our grandson Lawson attended his first beauty pageant last weekend, and while his Mom did report he sat still and behaved, she admitted it was her idea to go and that he probably would have been more satisfied playing games on his tablet than watching a bunch of girls walking round on stage. Oh well, it was a date night for two of my favorite folks!

For what it is worth....

*** The Elba Tigers saw their season end last week in the opening round of the South Region with a 58-48 loss to Barbour County. The Tigers owned a five-point lead with four minutes left in the game, but were outscored 21-6 in the closing minutes and saw the season end with a final record of 15-7. The Tigers hit over half their shots from inside the arc, but hit only 1 of 10 shots from behind the three-point line and committed a total of 21 turnovers, which more times than not will get you beat. The bad news is that the season is over, but the good news is that the Tigers started four juniors and next year they should be determined to not let the season end in Dothan.

*** The Elba Lady Tigers had their season end last week with a 53-35 loss to Abbeville, at the South Region, but posted a 12-7 record for the season and advanced to region play for the third time in five years to prove once again that the girls program is solid. The Lady Tigers pulled within five points late in the third quarter, but went scoreless for almost six minutes in the fourth quarter and watched as the final score got out of hand. The Elba girls hit only 10 of 41 shots in the massive Dothan Civic Center and also committed 28 turnovers, which isn't exactly the formula for success. Despite the loss, the Lady Tigers have a solid group of players coming back next season and should just keep on getting better.

*** The high school baseball and softball seasons are underway, and here in Elba there are high hopes that both teams will be much improved. The Tigers advanced to the second round of the playoffs last season and showed everyone that baseball is alive and well at Elba High, but must develop pitching to be an area title contender and may have to get lots of on the job training. Over on the softball field, the Lady Tigers have high hopes of posting a winning season after winning only twice a year ago, and appear to have the talent to be competitive. The girls will no doubt get better as the season rolls along, and the girls from the basketball team finally get to practice.

*** It should also be a fun season for the teams around the area as all the teams appear loaded. In baseball, New Brockton is thinking 'state title' and has beefed up its regular season schedule to get some valuable experience against quality teams, while Brantley will be as good as always, and both Kinston and Zion Chapel should be much improved and ready to take that next step. Over with the girls, Brantley will once again be a state championship contender, while New Brockton and Zion Chapel should be as solid as ever, and Kinston should be a 1A power. Yep, it looks like a fun season ahead.

*** In closing.... Word is that the Elba Tigers will have a new head football coach by the time my column comes out in the paper, and while I do have an idea who it will be, there is no doubt the Tigers will be in good hands next season and I hope that all Tiger fans will support the new head man and let him know that here in Elba football is #1.

The Elba Tigers and Lady Tigers both hosted a Class 2A sub-region game last week at the Elba High gym and both teams gave their fans plenty to cheer about as they rolled past their opponents to advance to the South Region tournament, in Dothan.

Following are highlights of both wins:

BOYS:

Elba 59 Chickasaw 51

The Elba Tigers rallied from a one-point halftime deficit to post an exciting 59-51 win over the Chickasaw Chieftains, Tuesday night.

Elba jumped out to an early 4-0 lead on baskets by Vilee Sams and Alex Wright and opened up its biggest lead of the opening quarter with 3:15 left in the stanza when a basket by Wright put the Tigers on top 11-5.

A late 3-pointer by the Chieftains cut the lead to 11-10 heading into the second quarter, while back-to-back 3-pointers by Quinton Braskett and Xavier Lester gave Chickasaw an 18-15 lead midway through the quarter.

Elba regained the lead at 19-18 on a basket by Alex Wright and went on top 24-22 late on a 3-pointer by Jay Jordan, only to see the Chieftains regain the lead at the half on a last-second 3-pointer by Chris Grissett.

The Tigers regained the lead at 29-27 with 4:21 left in the third quarter on a 3-pointer by Vilee Sams, while Elba's Charvez Hill sparked an 8-0 run late in the stanza to give the Tigers a little breathing room with a 38-29 advantage.

The Tigers carried a 40-35 lead into the final stanza, and led by Richmon Singletary went on another 8-0 run to open up a 48-35 lead with 5:30 still left on the clock. Chickasaw answered with an 8-0 run of its own to cut the Elba lead to 47-43 with 3:31 remaining, and got within 49-45 with 1:29 left on a basket by Lester.

A basket by Elba's Alex Wright and a three point play by Wright pushed the Tigers lead to 51-45 with 1:05 left, and the Chieftains never got closer than four points in the final minute as the Tigers scored their last five points at the free-throw line to claim the 59-51 win.

Alex Wright scored 18 points and Richmon Singletary added 14 to lead Elba, while Deante Sanders scored 12 points to lead Chickasaw.

quarter, but rallied late in the stanza behind the play of A'Maysia Whitfield and Sandra Lindsey and closed the quarter with an 8-0 run to grab a n 11-10 advantage.

St. Luke's regained the lead 16-14 midway through the second quarter; however, Elba went back on top 19-16 with 2:50 left in the stanza on a 3-pointer by A'Maysia Whitfield, and added late 3-pointers by Sandra Lindsey and Whitfield to carry a 29-19 lead into intermission.

A three-point play by Elba's Laken Cooks sparked a 7-0 run to open the third quarter as the Lady Tigers lead grew to 36-19, and even though the Lady Tigers scored only one point the remainder of the stanza, they still carried a 37-25 lead into the fourth quarter.

St. Luke's pulled within 37-29 with 3:25 remaining on the clock on a basket by Asia Thompson, but Elba never lost control and hit 5 of 6 free throws down the stretch to hold on a claim the 42-35 win.

Sandra Lindsey scored 19 points and A'Maysia Whitfield added 14 to lead Elba, while Whitney Novak scored 12 to lead St. Luke's.

At South Region

Tigers ousted by Barbour County 58-48

The Elba Tigers saw their trek toward the Final Four hit a dead-end last Thursday afternoon in the opening round of the South Region when they were defeated by the Barbour County Jaguars 58-48.

Elba grabbed an early 2-0 lead on a basket by Richmon Singletary and was still on top 5-3 with 6:24 left in the opening quarter after a basket by Vilee Sams, but Barbour County scored five straight points to move ahead 8-5 and the Jaguars never lost command as they carried a 14-9 lead into the second stanza.

The Tigers opened the second quarter on a 5-0 run and pulled even at 14-14 with 6:18 left on a three-point play by Alex Wright.

Elba regained the lead at 18-16 with 2:54 remaining in the quarter when Vilee

Sams hit a pair of free throws; however, the Tigers went scoreless for the remainder of the quarter and at intermission Barbour County went in with a 21-18 lead.

A basket by Vilee Sams cut the Barbour County lead to 23-22 early in the third quarter, and the Tigers took the lead at 25-23 with 5:19 left on a 3-pointer by Jay Jordan. Elba's lead grew to 29-23 with 3:37 left after a pair of baskets by Richmon Singletary and grew to 30-23 on a free throw by Singletary. However, Barbour County refused to fold and cut the lead to 30-28 before Elba's Alex Wright scored late to enable the Tigers to carry a 32-28 lead into the fourth quarter.

Elba's owned a 33-30 lead with 7:18 left in the stanza after a free throw by Alex Wright, but the Jaguars scored the game's next seven points to open up a 37-33 lead with 5:51 left on the clock.

The Tigers' Richmon Singletary scored nine straight points over a one minute span to put Elba back on top 42-37 with 4:27 still left on the clock, but Barbour County again rallied and cut the lead to 42-41 with 3:30 remaining after a basket by Willie Screws.

Elba stretched its lead to 44-41 with 3:11 left on the clock on a pair of free throws by Richmon Singletary; however, Barbour County answered with a 9-0 run to move on top 50-44 with only 56-seconds remaining. Singletary scored with 44-seconds left and again with 25 ticks left on the clock to pull Elba within 54-48, but the Tigers rally proved to be too little, too late, as Barbour County held on to oust the Tigers 58-48.

Richmon Singletary connected on 10 of 12 shots from the floor and 5 of 6 free throws to score 25 points to lead Elba, while Alex Wright added 10 points and 5 rebounds and Vilee Sams scored 8 points and pulled down 5 rebounds.

Quaimaine Oliver scored 15 points and Rondarius Warren added 14 points for Barbour County.

In region semifinals

Lady Tigers fall hard to Abbeville 53-35

The Elba Lady Tigers saw their late-season surge come to an end last week at the South Region when they lost to the Abbeville Lady Jackets 53-35.

Abbeville scored the game's initial five points o grab an early 5-0 lead, but Elba got on the scoreboard with 5:59 left on a 3-pointer by Kira Starks and pulled within 7-6 with 5:35 left when Lady Tiger teammate Sandra Lindsey added a 3-pointer from downtown Dothan. That was as close as Elba would get in the opening quarter; however, as the Lady Tigers failed to score again in the stanza and watched s

Abbeville open up a 16-6 lead.

Elba's Kira Starks converted a rare 4-point play and A'Maysia Whitfield connected on a 3-pointer as the Lady Tigers cut the Abbeville lead to 16-13 only seconds into the second quarter, but the Lady Jackets regained control and answered with an 11-2 run to stretch their lead to 27-15 late in the stanza.

The pace slowed early in the third quarter as Abbeville's lead stood at 31-19 with 6:53 left in the quarter, but the Lady Tigers pulled within 31-22 with 4:05 left on a 3-pointer by Kira Starks and got within 33-27 when Starks connected on a pair of free throws.

Elba trailed 35-29 with 2:06 remaining after a 3-pointer by Starks, and had a chance to get even closer, but missed a pair of free throws with 1:58 left and then watched at the Lady Jackets closed the stanza with a 6-0 run to grab a 41-29 advantage.

Elba had hopes of another rally entering the final stanza, but Abbeville scored the first 11 points of the fourth quarter to stretch its lead to 52-29, and by the time Elba's Freeda Hooks connected on two free throws to end the scoring drought there was only 2:29 left on the clock.

Kira Starks and Laken

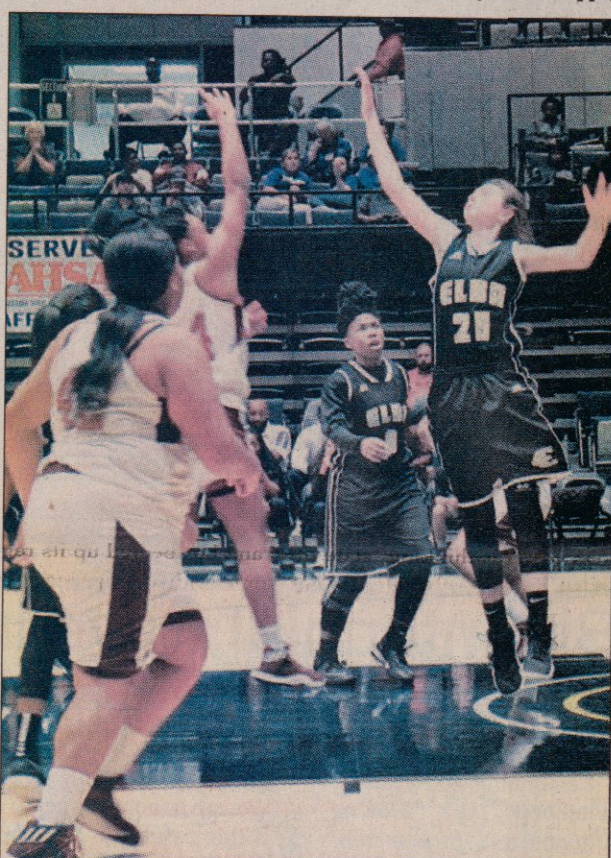

Cooks both scored baskets in the final minutes, but it only changed the final score the Lady Tigers lost 53-35.

Kira Starks scored 16 points and was 3 of 4 from the three-point line to lead Elba, while Laken Cooks added 8 points and 8 rebounds. Jacelyn Mitchell scored 19 points and Ty'kera Neal added 16 to lead Abbeville.

Begins its tour around the state in March

Bicentennial traveling exhibit coming to Elba in July 2018

Celebrating 200 years of statehood the "Making Alabama: A Bicentennial Traveling Exhibit" showcases Alabama's history through stories, interactive displays, programming and local exhibits.

The Alabama Humanities Foundation, in partnership with the Alabama Department of Archives and History and the Alabama Bicentennial Commission, is presenting the statewide exhibit, set to start in March of 2018, running through November 2019 — just before the 200th anniversary of Alabama becoming a state. The traveling exhibit will tour all 67 of Alabama's counties, offering up to three-week engagements in each host community.

The exhibit is set to open in Coffee County at the National Security Conference Center in Elba from Wednesday, July 4, through Wednesday, July 25.

"We are honored to get to host this exhibit in Coffee County," said Chamber executive director Sandy Bynum. "This is a significant event for our state and for the Bicentennial celebration. We look forward to the opening in Montgomery in March and Coffee County's participation July 4-25 at the National Security Conference Center."

Visitors will read about Alabama history and culture, they will hear, see and feel examples of it through use of audio clips and photo collages — new artwork composed of historic images from maps, photographs, postcards, book covers and so on. The goal is for 'Making Alabama' to excite interest in Alabama history, reflect its rich diversity of cultures and get people thinking about the future.

The exhibit features eight periods of history that defined Alabama as a state, stories behind people, places and culture that made a difference in Alabama, exhibits created by host communities, Alabama-made documentaries, and presentations and talks.

"Now that Coffee County has a date and location for the exhibition, we will begin to reach out to our county citizens to assist," said Bynum. "As you can imagine, planning and working this historic event will take many volunteers."

The exhibit will debut on March 5 at the state capitol in Montgomery in the Supreme Court Library. It will be on display until March 30, and then it will begin to tour the state.

The full exhibit schedule and locations can be found online. The exhibition is free of charge and open to the public.

For more information on the exhibit, call 205-558-3992 or visit makingalabama.org.

To get more information locally contact the Elba Chamber of Commerce, Main Street and Visit Elba 334-897-3125.

ber that watches and warnings are issued by the National Weather Service in Tallahassee. Other surrounding counties, Covington and Pike, receive watches and warnings from NWS Mobile and NWS Birmingham, respectively.

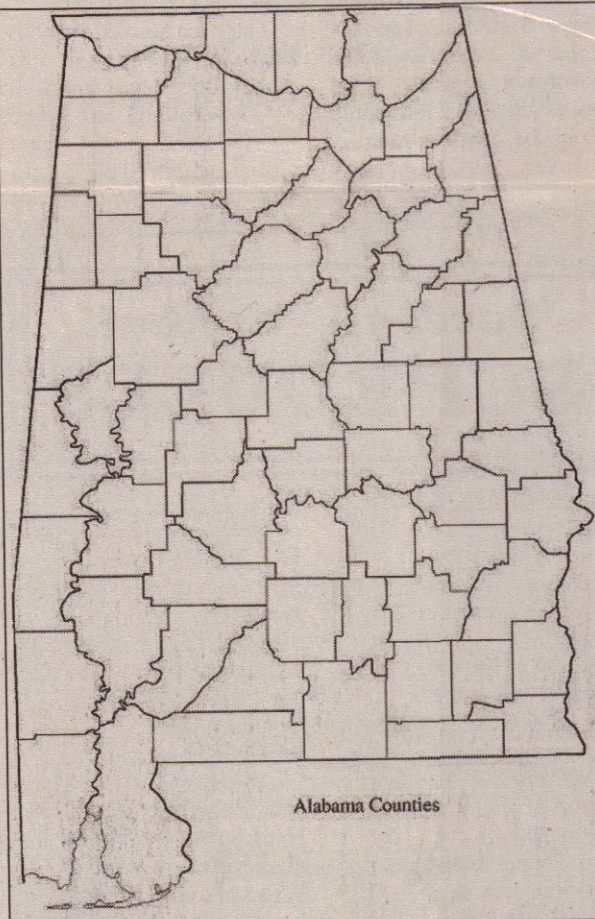

"Make sure you knew where you are!" Lyons said. "Make sure you have more than one way to receive weather alerts."

At home this may include a NOAA Weather Radio, local TV, battery-operated radio, the internet, or a cell phone.

For those who may need help programming a weather radio, call 334-894-5375 or stop by the Coffee County EMA office and officials can assist with this.

"If you haven't already, sign up for the Coffee County Mass Notification System," Lyons suggested. "It's easy and free. From your cell phone, text 'join 413917' to 30890."

One can also sign up online at the Coffee County EMA website at www.coffeecounty.us.

Coffee County EMA officials urge citizens to know where they are (on the map)...Don't just stop with your home location, learn surrounding counties and communities. This extra bit of knowledge will help you determine if storms in other areas are heading your way.
